

ABSTRACT

We do hereby claim that Death and Forensics Trivia is a board game for adults containing factual trivia style questions and answers to be used as a fun and recreational form of entertainment. Each player will have a game piece which they will try to take around the game board a total of three times - each time around receiving a round board pass card. The first player to receive three round board passes wins the game. In order to advance around the board you must roll a die, and answer correctly the specified color question corresponding to the color of square you land on. If you do not answer the question correctly you must remain where you are without moving until your next turn. If you land on any one of the red squares, which are Bonus squares and you answer the question correctly you may move double the number shown on the die.

Game Contents

- One Game Board
- One Die
- Six Game Pieces
- Thirty Board Passes
- Twelve Hundred Questions on Three Hundred Cards (with answers on the back)